Focus On City Government:

I hold a strong belief that local government should represent the best interest of the community. Hot Springs is ailing from a lack of community oriented leadership in city government. Hot Springs needs to be healed from the inside out.

Hot Springs has a need for courageous leadership in city government. This election is about giving the citizens of Hot Springs what they deserve, dedicated and committed city government. This is basic government for the people.

"I will be a fighter for the people."
